

NATIONAL ACADEMY GIVES ART PRIZES IN WINTER SHOW

That for Sculpture Won by Memorial in Memory of George R. Clark.

The "Conquest of the Northwest," a memorial in bronze, eighteen feet long and eighteen feet high, by Robert A. Aitken, N. A., formerly of San Francisco, now of New York, has received the prize for the best piece of American sculpture in the winter exhibition of the National Academy of Design, No. 315 West 57th Street. The group was given in memory of George Rogers Clark, by Paul G. McIntyre of Charlottesville to the University of Virginia and was unveiled there Nov. 1.

To the memorial the Elizabeth N. Watrous Gold Medal was awarded. The Carnegie Prize of $500 for the best oil painting in the exhibition, portraits excepted, by an American artist, went to Charles Chapman, A. N. A., of Leonia, N. J., for his "Forest Primeval."

The Julia A. Shaw Memorial Prize of $300 for the most meritorious work by an American woman who has not previously received the prize went to Miss Dorothy Ochtman, daughter of Leonard Ochtman, the painter, of Coe, Conn., for her "The Tang Jar."

The Proctor prize for the best portrait was awarded to Ernest Ipsen's recently completed head of John Lane, publisher. Mr. Ipsen, who lives at the National Arts Club, No. 119 East 19th Street, is an American of Danish parentage. He recently completed a portrait of Dr. Maurice Egan, American Minister to Denmark.

The Altman prizes, aggregating $1,500 for the two best figure paintings, were divided as follows: First prize, Carl Rungius, A. N. A., No. 94 Fifth Avenue, "Fall Round-Up;" second prize, E. L. Blumenschein, A. N. A., of Taos, New Mexico, "Superstition." Mr. Rungius is best known for his paintings of wild animals.

The Helen Foster Barnett Prize was awarded to Joseph M. Lora, No. 673 Northern Boulevard, College Point, L. I., for the piece of sculpture entitled "Prairie Fire." The J. Francis Murphy prize went to John F. Pollack, A. N. A., New Hope, Pa., for his "High River."

The exhibition will open Saturday, Nov. 19, in the galleries of the American Fine Arts Society, No. 215 West 57th Street, with Varnishing Day for academicians, associates and exhibitors on Nov. 18.

Mr. Ipsen, who had just heard of the award, said at his studio, No. 119 East 19th Street: "I have never won a National Academy prize before. I am surprised and delighted that my portrait was recognized, especially because the sitter, John Lane, is such an interesting personage."

PARALYZED STEVEDORE WINS $50,000 VERDICT.
Justice Refuses to Set Aside Jury Award for Injuries to Plaintiff.

A verdict of $50,000 was given yesterday by a jury in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn before Justice Callaghan in favor of George Tracy, a stevedore of No. 288 Smith Street, and against the Eastern Loading Corporation. Tracy was working for the company at the Bay Ridge army base, March 10 when a bale of wool fell twenty-two feet from a sling and struck him. Tracy, totally paralyzed, lay in a hospital seven weeks. Dr. H. B. Delator removed a section of cervical vertebra and restored Tracy's left side to usefulness, but his right arm and leg are still partly paralyzed. Tracy is forty years old, is married and has two children.

Justice Callaghan denied a motion to set the verdict aside.

Bronze Memorial That Wins Gold Medal as Best American Sculpture at National Academy

The GEORGE ROGERS CLARK MONUMENT by ROBERT AITKEN, N. A.

SAYS U. S. FORCED HAYTI TO DISSOLVE ASSEMBLY.

Gen. Cole Declares Failure to Accept New Constitution Brought Strong Decree.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Dissolution of the Haytian Assembly, which had refused to adopt a new Constitution permitting ratification of a treaty with the United States, drawn according to the demands of the American Government, was forced by the American Expeditionary command under "orders from Washington," according to testimony given today by Brig. Gen. Eli K. Cole of the Marine Corps before the Senate committee investigating the American occupation.

Gen. Cole, who commanded the first expedition of marines sent to Hayti, said he had informed President D'Arliguenne that "the most issue a decree dissolving the Assembly," adding that he carried with him on the visit to the Presidential residence a military decree to the same effect, for use in case the President refused to accede to the demand.

His instructions, the General said, were to get the decree from D'Arliguenne if possible, but to use military force if necessary.

The branch between the Haytian Assembly and the President was over adoption of three Constitution clauses, namely, those authorizing foreign ownership of land in Hayti, giving foreigners the same rights before domestic courts as nationals possessed, and giving the right of diplomatic intervention in damage cases.

SENATE VOTES EXTENSION OF EMERGENCY TARIFF ACT.
Poultry and Cattle Men Ask for More Protection Than Fordney Allows.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Congressional action was completed yesterday on the bill to extend the life of the emergency tariff until permanent tariff legislation is enacted. It otherwise would have expired by limitation Nov. 7.

The poultry growers, through the American Poultry Association, told the Senate committee yesterday that the American hen could not compete with her foreign sister under rates on eggs as contained in the Fordney bill passed by the House. They asked a duty of 8 cents a dozen on eggs instead of the 6-cent rate of the Fordney bill.

The requirements of the cattle men are for a 20 per cent. ad valorem duty on hides and an equal rate on fresh and prepared meats, but with the provision that the 20 per cent. rate on meats should not mean less than 4 cents a pound.

On the meat animals, the association asked that a basic duty of 30 per cent. be established rather than on a per head basis with a specific duty as provided by the House. Hides are now on the free list, while the rates on cattle range from 4 cents a pound and the beef and veal quality is 2 cents a pound.

All the witnesses asserted that the cattle men of the Southwest were "broke" and urged a tariff of proportions that would permit a rehabilitation of the industry.

HUSBAND IN BED CALLED HER BY MAID'S NAME, SAYS WIFE.

When He Discovered Mistake He Said He Had Been Talking in Sleep, She Alleges.

Stanley Merrill, an agent of an insurance company, living at Hartford, Conn., and reported wealthy, was charged by his wife before City Judge Holden in White Plains yesterday with abandonment and non-support. Mrs. Merrill is the daughter of Major and Mrs. David A. Brodick of No. 30 Green Ridge Avenue, White Plains, and formerly of Newark.

She testified she left her husband in September, 1920, after she went into her husband's room in the dark late at night and he had addressed her as Dorothy, the name of the maid employed by the Merrills.

Mrs. Merrill said she kept up a conversation with her husband for several minutes, during which he kept calling her "Dorothy." When he discovered who she was, she alleged, he told her he had been talking in his sleep. The next day, Mrs. Merrill said, she took her children and went to the home of her parents.

Merrill was held under $1,000 bond after Judge Holden reserved decision on a motion of his attorney for dismissal on the ground the case should be tried in Connecticut.

PROMOTER HELD AFTER 8 COMPLAIN OF $21,000 LOSS.

Former Soldier Who Saved $810 While in Army Among Accusers of Frederick Bruckner.

Frederick Bruckner, fifty-one, Vice President of the Seven Seas Corporation, which formerly had an office at No. 17 Battery Place, organized to manufacture paints and varnish, was held yesterday in $1,500 bail for the Grand Jury by Magistrate Sweetser in Tombs Court.

Charles Schnable of No. 533 West 34th Street testified he invested $310 June 27 last. Schnable, through his attorney, told the court he saved the money while in the army. He said it had been represented to him that the corporation had all wells in Kentucky and all over the world. Schnable asserts Bruckner signed an agreement to return the money whenever requested.

Bruckner testified he saw Schnable's advertisement in a newspaper stating he had money to invest and had agreed to pay Schnable $15 a week. Bruckner also testified he had promised to return Schnable's money, but said he was unable to do so, as the company failed.

Alexander S. Rosenthal, attorney for Schnable, said eight persons present had invested a total of $21,000 in Bruckner's company after answering newspaper advertisements.

Bruckner lives at No. 1405 Prospect Avenue, Brooklyn. Magistrate Sweetser refused to reduce the bail when informed the defendant was married and has six children.

CITES WEEKS IN ARMY CASE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Justice Statton in the Supreme Court on the District of Columbia has ordered Secretary Weeks to show cause Nov. 28 why the War Department order requiring Major Wilbur Rogers should not be set aside.

Major Rogers, in his petition for a writ of mandamus, contended that he was retired under orders of former Secretary Baker, without having received an opportunity to present his side of the case.

SECOND DEATH FROM CRASH.

As the result of an automobile accident at 149th Street and Morris Avenue, Bronx, Wednesday morning, in which her mother was killed, Fantini Mazzoli, one year old, of No. 2037 Bathgate Avenue, died in Lebanon Hospital last night. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mazzoli and four other persons were in a Ford touring car which was hit by an unidentified taxicab. Mazzoli underwent an operation in the hospital and is said to be in a serious condition.

Eatmor Cranberries

With Pot-Roast

Did you know that Cranberries cooked with pot-roast or other boiled meats make these cheaper cuts more tender and much more delicious?

To prepare a 3 lb. pot-roast:

Brown meat in 3 tablespoons of hot fat. When surface is brown, remove meat from pan and add three cups of water; stir until boiling, then add 2 cups of Cranberry Sauce, made less sweet than usual; replace meat in pan with this gravy sauce and proceed with cooking in ordinary way. When the meat is half cooked, season with salt and pepper.

There is a real difference in Cranberries. Insist on getting "Eatmor" brand. AMERICAN CRANBERRY EXCHANGE, 90 W. 47th St., New York.

It requires no more effort to say "Post Toasties"
than to say "corn flakes."
But what a difference
there is in the flavor of Post Toasties
—best corn flakes

They give the appetite something to be thankful for. Insist on "Post Toasties," and refuse substitutes.

Pillsbury's

Pancake Flour

A Stack of Wheat-s

Highest grade, fancy patent white flour—the same good flour you use for your own baking—is the chief ingredient of Pillsbury's Pancake Flour.

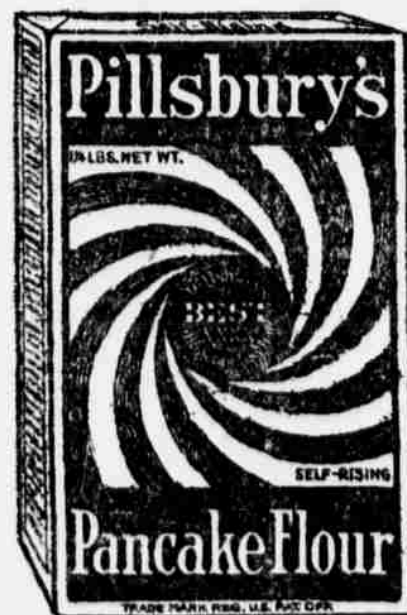

That's why there is no mistaking the delightful home-made flavor of Pillsbury's pancakes.

Buy Pillsbury's Pancake Flour from your grocer. Then just add water and bake.

A Member of—

Pillsbury's Family of Foods

Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, Minneapolis, Minn.

"Sagar an' spice
an' everything nice"

ESTABLISHED
1855

R&R

PLUM PUDDING

A Food-Confection famed for three generations

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR IT

The short cut

HEINZ OVEN BAKED BEANS with Tomato Sauce

The shortest cut to a good square meal is a can of Heinz Baked Beans and you will find nothing on the way to hurry or annoy you.

Just heat and serve.

These beans are really oven baked and are prepared with the most delicious tomato sauce you ever tasted.

So good—and always so good
that it is the most popular dish in many thousands of homes.

The well known cleanliness
and purity of the Heinz kitchens insures the rest.

One of the 57

Leading grocers in New York
quote these prices on Heinz Baked Beans:
Small, 11 oz.—11c Medium, 18 oz.—15c Large, 30 oz.—25c

Go to See The World's Exhibit

At the National Health Exposition, in the Grand Central Palace, every afternoon and evening next week.

Wonderful action pictures (60x40 inches)
of the School Athletics that the SUNDAY
WORLD founded in 1906 and now maintains in 175 New York Schools.

Colored proofs showing how the SUN-
DAY WORLD Comics are printed.

Booth 251 in the Mezzanine—ask for a Puzzle Card.